BOSTON MARKET REVIEW

For Week Ending March 24, 1923

Prepared by U. S. Bureau of Markets and Crop Estimates

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Onions, potatoes, cranberries and strawberries higher, cabbage and spinach lower, and other lines practically unchanged. Shipments of New York A grade Baldwin apples this week at $1.00-1.15, and best New England Baldwin from cold storage at $1.00-1.15. New York A grade apples lower at $1.00-1.15 a barrel, and Southern California mostly $1.00-1.15 a barrel. California cauliflowers steady at $2.00-2.50 a crate. Florida celery dull at $1.50-2.00 a crate. Cape Cod cranberries higher at $1.50-2.00 a crate. California iceberg lettuce unchanged at $2.00-2.50 a crate. Onions advanced $1.25-1.50 a bag to $1.50-2.00 for best Western and $2.00-2.50 a bag for Connecticut Valley stock. Maine potatoes 400 higher at $2.10-2.15 per 100 lb. sack. Texas spinach in over supply and lower at $0.75-1.00 a bushel. Florida strawberries higher at $1.50-2.00 a quart. Native Best greens 250 higher at $1.25-1.50, and dandelions steady at $1.00-1.25 a box. Household cucumbers steady at $1.00-1.25 a box. Lettuce about steady at $1.00-1.25 a box. Radishes lower at $1.25-2.00 a box. Ribs higher at $1.00-1.25 a pound. Root vegetables weak, especially parsnips, at the following prices: a bushel, $1.75-2.00; carrots $1.50-1.75; parsnips $1.00-1.25; turnips $1.00-1.25.

DAIRY AND POULTRY PRODUCTS

Dressed poultry market shows slight improvement this week, especially on medium sized fowl, while 6 lb. fowl are hard to move. Chickens continue to move very slowly as a large percentage of receipts are coarse and stumpy. Soft meat chickens bringing a premium over the ordinary run. 10-12 lb. 25-30c; 12-14 lb. 25-30c; 14-16 lb. 25-30c; 16-18 lb. 25-30c; 18-20 lb. 25-30c; 20-22 lb. 25-30c; 22-24 lb. 25-30c; 24-26 lb. 25-30c; 26-28 lb. 25-30c; 28-30 lb. 25-30c. Live poultry market shows considerable improvement this week due to the approaching Jewish holidays, with a tendency towards higher prices especially on fat fowl. 10-12 lb. 25-30c; 12-14 lb. 25-30c; 14-16 lb. 25-30c; 16-18 lb. 25-30c; 18-20 lb. 25-30c; 20-22 lb. 25-30c; 22-24 lb. 25-30c; 24-26 lb. 25-30c; 26-28 lb. 25-30c; 28-30 lb. 25-30c. Eggs Market has been rather unsettled and prices have declined gradually since Monday, due to heavy receipts and large stock. Receivers have been free sellers, attempting to clean up their stocks each day by offering to sell at a price below the market, anticipating the decline and making their price accordingly. Buyers, however, have been rather conservative and are only taking stocks to supply their immediate requirements. The market reacted slightly on Friday, and at the moment is steady to firm, with Extra First 24-25c; First 24-25c; Second 23-24c; Northern 23-24c; Southern 23-24c; Fancy Brown 20c.

The proposal to increase the Massachusetts income tax from six to eight or even 10 percent on intangible property was strongly opposed by B. Loring Young, speaker of the House of Representatives, in an address before the Young Men's Club of Weymouth, on the ground that the higher rate would defeat its own purpose by causing the conversion of taxable into non-taxable securities.

Prosecution of a claim against the federal government by the state of Vermont for recovery of $1,500,000 levied by the United States in 1860, 1867 and 1868, under what it was claimed was an unconstitutional direct tax on manufactured products and on income, was voted by the House of Representatives. Gov. Proctor was authorized to employ counsel to push the claim. The measure voted by the House would seek recovery of the sum through congressional action. It also provides for co-operative action by other states with Vermont in securing the return of money levied under the post-Civil War revenue measure. Some doubt exists, if the act were voided, would reach $200,000,000, it was estimated.

The Family Welfare Society and the department of social ethics of Harvard University issued a report on results of an investigation into the living costs in dollars and cents of maintaining in Boston a normal average family under favorable conditions. The materials used in their report were collected and arranged by Stuart H. Macklin, a graduate student of the university, and the standard of living adopted for the inquiry was that prepared by the Philadelphia bureau under favorable conditions. Average annual costs are listed by the report as follows: food, $2,200; clothing for man $78.45; clothing for woman $73.30; clothing for girl aged 13, $62.00; clothing for girl aged 10, $54.00; total for all clothing, $1,181.75; rent, $790.00; fuel and light, $128.31; carfare, $73.00; cleaning, washing and service, $42.23; specified standard, $1,189.94; $1,417.68; unspecified standard, $1,189.94; total cost of standard, $1,189.94. The Massachusetts Senate adopted the House's resolution authorizing the public utilities department to conduct a thorough investigation into the cost of living, to determine whether there is bearing their present share of highway costs.

A proposal was heard at the Connecticut Capital to the effect that the state tax on gasoline be increased from 1 cent a gallon to 5 cents. It was estimated in the state board of finance report that $600,000 would be received from the gasoline tax in the next two years, at the present rate. The proposal was to write into the gasoline tax law a provision that all of the proceeds be applied to highway construction or repair work. It is estimated that the average automobile would about $400 last year in gasoline taxes.

WHAT HAPPENED IN NEW ENGLAND

News of General Interest From the Six States

The Barwise resolve proposing an amendment to the constitution, limiting state aid to sectarian institutions until 1930 and prohibiting it entirely after that date, failed by two votes in the Maine House of Representatives.

The Boston and Albany railroad is to spend $1,500,000 in track and bed improvements in Massachusetts. The work will start early in April and will cover a strip of about 18 miles.

Armistice day will not be a legal holiday in Massachusetts this year, but Republican members of the House were spared the disagreeable task of voting against it through a clever parliamentary move on the part of Representative Adlow of Roxbury.

The supreme court is asked to pass on the constitutionality of the Massachusetts daylight saving law in an order offered by Senator Haigis of Greenfield as a substitute for the adverse report of the legal affairs committee on the bill to repeal the law.

The Vermont House by a vote of 153 to 61, sustained Gov. Proctor's veto of a bill to prohibit the introduction of foreign fats into milk and to regulate the sale of condensed and evaporated milk. The Senate passed the bill over the governor's veto by a vote of 22 to 8.

The board of education of Bridgeport, Ct., has ordered the schools of the city closed until April 2, because of a deficit of $10,000 in the funds for school operations. The order starts the Easter vacation three days ahead of schedule and gives an extra vacation to 30,000 pupils.

When his horse was unable to thru the high drifts of Florida mountains, Leroy Shippe, a farmer living in the Mohawk Trail section, blazed himself to the death and dragged his sick wife eight miles to a hospital in No. Adams, Mass. Shortly after Mrs. Shippe arrived at the hospital, a boy was born.

John P. Kane of Worcester, Mass., professional steepjack, fell 50 feet inside the tower of Trinity Church and was miraculously saved from death, as his fall was broken by a one-inch pipe in the tower. He suffered a fracture of the right ankle and severe injuries to his right side. This is the seventh fall Kane has had.

Ejecting a mother-in-law from your home does not constitute a glitzy sentence of the peace according to Judge Samuel City in district court, Worcester, Mass., when he discharged Giuseppe Gendroni, 28, who was charged with disturbing the peace when he threw his mother-in-law out of the house after supporting her for seven years.

Massachusetts expects to spend $70,000,000 in highway development within the next five years. Of this huge sum, $12,000,000 will be raised by registration fees, $1,000,000 will be received in federal aid and $50,000,000 in maintenance assessments. The additional $10,000,000 must be obtained by creating new sources of revenue, either in a gasoline tax or increased registration fees.

Albert H. Day, mayor of Bangor, Me., announced that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor of Maine at the next election. In making the announcement Mayor Day asserted that he felt that the time had come when he might "reasonably and without presumption seek the gratification of my ambition to become governor of Maine."

Mayor Orlando E. Frost, of Belfast, Me., elected on a citizens' ticket, broke the record for the shortest inaugural, for he made no speech whatsoever, stating that he would make his story as he goes along instead of making prophecies at the start. He said he had been elected on but two issues, lower taxes and new schools, and that he should endeavor to accomplish both and was willing to stand by it all by his record at the end of his term.

What is said to be the largest money settlement ever made through a Rhode Island court was completed when an interlocutory decree was entered providing that John W. Rogers, 34, wealthy woolen manufacturer, pay to his former wife, Madeline A. Rogers, $1,000 in money, deed to her for a life interest in a residence near Providence, together with furnishings, give her 10,000 shares in gold mining stock and provide other sources of income and property worth many thousands of dollars.

ANDOVER

At the meeting of the Board of Directors of Andover Water Co., held at the residence of F. P. Thomas, Saturday evening, Mr. Harry M. Thomas was elected Treasurer of the company made vacant by the death of Mrs. John A. French.

Miss Annie Akers has been quite ill. John B. Martin and Harold Tribou from Rumford were business visitors in town last week.

RESULTS THAT REMAIN

Are Appreciated by Bethel People. Thousands who suffer from backache and kidney complaint have tried one remedy after another, finding only temporary benefit. This is discouraging, but there is one kidney medicine that has earned a reputation for lasting results and there is plenty of proof of its merit right here in Bethel.

Here is the testimony of one who used Doan's Kidney Pills years ago, and now makes her testimony even stronger.

Mrs. Walter E. Bartlett, Chapman St., Bethel, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills some time ago and the results I received were, in every way, satisfactory and were evidence of the merit of this remedy. I have felt no return of the complaint and naturally I place no little confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills." (Statement given June 12, 1916.)

On September 9, 1920, Mrs. Bartlett added: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney trouble several years ago, and the cure has been permanent." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Bartlett had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Worry Wears A Life Away

LF

Worry affects the stomach, brings on indigestion, constipation, biliousness. Again, a generally disordered system causes worry—a vicious circle! A clean, healthy system with pure blood, means a clear brain where worry finds no abiding place. To enjoy healthy happiness, keep digestion vigorous, bowels active, the entire internal system clear of poisonous wastes. Nothing is more effective for this purpose than genuine "L. F." Atwood Medicine. Large bottle, 50 cents—1 cent a dose. All dealers. L. F. MEDICINE COMPANY, Portland, Maine.

Sobauda.

There was a regular thing for Mrs. Penfield to be called to Number 41 N. Sanders lived there, alone except for a roomer; and during the few months since she had come to The Standard Cop, she had summoned Mrs. Penfield several times when over-rought nerves had brought her to a climax of suffering. Her neighbors had little patience with these attacks because of the weeping and lamentation which were the outer symbols of her distress, they had nicknamed her "Sobsuds," And she knew it. Sensitive to an minute which she interpreted as un sympathetic, Mrs. Sanders turned for comfort to Mrs. Penfield as the only one of her neighbors who could soothe her late equanimity.

It was Monday, and Mrs. Penfield was in the midst of washing, but at the summons came, she waited a minute in response, her office being of the physician who is called in emergency.

She found Mrs. Sanders in her small bedroom, pacing rapidly back and forth, beating the air with her clenched fists.

"We exchanged no word of greeting," Mrs. Penfield entered casually, "but what had happened to think of it?"

"Weeping," Mrs. Sanders gave her a look of recognition, but said nothing.

"A colder today," remarked Mrs. Penfield in a matter-of-fact tone, "and a little like fall if you ain't a bit wiser. What do you say if I set you some tea to drink while we chaffin'?"

"I Sanders did not reply, but the commotion in her face relaxed the a trifle. Mrs. Penfield went into the kitchen and poured boiling water over the hops she had brought. She set a tray and arranged her person comfortably, as if the occasion were a social.
